Brittain, McBarron In Finals

After a rally Monday night, students will go to the polls Tuesday morning to elect ASSU and AWWSSU officers for '54-'55. Also on the ballot will be a constitutional amendment and the Loyalty Cup nominees.

ASSU finalists are:
President: Darrell Brittain, Frank McBarron.

Vice President: John Duyungan, Jim Ray.

Secretary: Louise Picardo, Virginia Schuck.

Treasurer: Mike Lane, Nick Skababin.

Sergeant-at-Arms: Jim Griffith,

Jack Rendall.

Finalists in the AWWSSU race are:

President: Barbara Van Derhoef.

Vice President: Joanne Blewett, Marilyn Ozar.

Secretary: Joanne Carroll, Sharon Swift.

Treasurer: Maureen Manca, Suzanne Riverman.

Humes Withdraws

A surprising feature of the Women Students' primary was the withdrawal of Kathy Humes from the presidential race. This leaves Barbara Van Derhoef unopposed for the post.

On Monday night, May 10, an election rally will be held starting at 7:30 p.m., on Spring Street in front of the Engineering Building. Candidates will address the crowd and a street dance will follow.

Caravan To Form

About 7 p.m. cars will assemble on 11th Avenue in front of the Gym to form a caravan. Cars will travel by all the women's residence halls except Providence, taking them in this order: Campion, Mitchell, Caroline, Sarazin and Bordeaux. After making the hall circuit, the cars will return to campus.

Changing the title of ASSU Sergeant-at-Arms in the constitution to that of ASSU Publicity Director will be on the ballot for student approval. The amendment was passed by the Assembly Board in March.

Additional Duties Named

Additional duties for the new office have been included in the amendment. These are:

1. Supervision of all campus publicity which includes all blackboard notices, posters, and signs in corridors, and notices on the bulletin board in the LA Building.

2. He (the Publicity Director) shall be responsible for the publicity of all ASSU-sponsored functions.

3. He shall be chairman of the Good Neighbor Drive.

4. He shall be in charge of half-time entertainment at home basketball games. He shall also provide entertainment for student body meetings when needed.

Cup Winners To Be Chosen

Students will also vote on the Loyalty Cup nominees. These are all seniors designated by campus clubs and by the faculty. One senior man and woman will each receive a trophy during the commencement exercises June 1.

Blood Bank Drive Progresses As Many Students Participate

By JOAN STECKLER

"Even schmoos like to give blood!" But even schmoos haven't been able to fulfill the goal of 450 pints of blood during the Seattle University drive. Students who haven't already given are urged to do so today. The King County mobile unit was on campus at 8:00 Wednesday morning and will remain open for students until 3 p.m. this afternoon.

Optional permits of release from classes may be available for students wishing to give blood. Those eligible to contribute are 19-year-old women and 18-year-old men students.

Purpose of this drive is to form a blood pool at Seattle University. All donations automatically go to the pool and are credited at King County Blood Bank.

Each student is entitled to draw blood, even if he has not given. In order for students to use the bank for themselves or for their families, they must contact Father Lemieux. After official clearance has been given, the student or a member of his family will be credited for blood elsewhere in the United States.

According to John Duyungan, co-chairman of the drive, "It isn't necessary to give in order to draw from the pool, but it would be a precautionary measure, and a good way to protect yourself and your family."

Alpha Phi Omega is sponsoring the project with Sy Simon and John Duyungan as co-chairmen. Barbara Lane, Mary Gay McRae, and Ginny Hardy are also assisting with arrangements for the drive.

COMPREHENSIVES

The Senior Comprehensive Examination in Scholastic Philosophy will be given this Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8, at 1 p.m. Either date may be chosen. These are the only times the examination will be given. Each graduating senior is required to take the examination. He should have a slip from the Registrar's office certifying his eligibility to take the test. Those who are taking the test for the second time will be charged a fee of $3. Results are given out only through the dean's office. Examinees will report to Rooms 123, 124, or 219. The examination covers all of Logic, Metaphysics, basic Psychology, Philosophy of God, and General and Special Ethics. Father John Fitterer, S.J., has been conducting review classes during the past week to help seniors prepare.

All School Carnival Scheduled May 14

Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, step right up! Gala entertainment for young and old. Bingo games, dart-throws, racing mice, all will be seen Friday, May 14, at the annual Spring Carnival in the gym.

All clubs, halls, and organizations of any type have been invited to enter a booth for the evening of fun. Applications may be obtained at the bookstore and must be turned in to Glenn Miller, Bob Denini, Wayne Browne, or to the switchboard by tomorrow, Friday, May 7.

The carnival chairmen emphasize that this will be a no-admission affair. Also, they state that a street dance is tentatively in the offing.

This ASSU function, organized by the Intercollegiate Knights, will begin at approximately 7 p.m.

HIYU Hike Club Departs Friday For Overnight

Olympic Hot Springs is the destination for the annual Hiyu spring overnight hike. Hikers will leave Friday at 1 p.m. sharp from the north end of the Mall and return Sunday, at 4:30 p.m.

Number of hikers to participate is limited to fifty. Initiated members of Hiyu take precedence over non-initiated hikers who have gone on the same number of hikes.

Expenses for the three days will be $5 which includes four ferry rides, van both ways, all lodging, all meals and the free use of the "heated swimming pool."

B. EARL PUCKETT

the executive committee, Peoples National Bank, will be master of be Professor John P. Stanford, banquet chairman.

Also to be honored are two Commerce & Finance seniors. This is in recognition for exceptional academic and extracurricular activities.

Many leading businessmen have addressed previous Commerce banquets. These include T. S. Peterson, president of Standard Oil of California, and Thomas A. Bradley, president of Acme Freight.

In 1933 Puckett became associated with Allied Stores, to which chain The Bon Marche belongs. The next year he became president. He assumed his present post in 1950, maintaining the responsibility as chief executive officer.

Pre-Med Honors Pledges on Sat.

Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med honorary, will hold a banquet to honor their newly initiated members at the New Washington Hotel on May 8 at 7 p.m.

Qualifications for membership in the organization are five quarters of attendance at SU and a 2.75 or better grade average. Those qualified are: Robert Andrews, John Gallucci, Gary Gray, Paul McCullough and Richard Romersa.

Dr. James J. Layman will be principal speaker at the affair. Father Eugene Healy, S.J., club moderator, and John Courchene, biology instructor, will also speak. Alumni of the club who are now studying at the University of Washington School of Medicine will be the honored guests.

Art Club Slates Fair and Auction

First Annual Spring Art Fair is scheduled for Friday, May 7. The Fair and auction will be held in Room 601 from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

According to Fr. Hayden A. Vachon, S.J., art adviser, the display will include paintings, drawings, water and oil colors, and "good stuff and junk."

The sale will be conducted in an auction manner. Members of the Art Club, art students, and teachers will be on hand to assist the buyers.

Proceeds from the sale will go to the Art Scholarship Fund.

Mu Sigma to Present 'Eliza,' Music-Drama, May 22 and 23

Rehearsals are well under way this week for the Music Department's production of "Eliza and the Lumberjack" in preparation for the opening May 22.

Casting for the lead roles was finished several weeks ago, and the organization of the show has already advanced past the preliminary stages.

"Eliza" is being held under the auspices of Mu Sigma, which is in charge of sets and lighting.

Carl Pitzer, director of the production, said that a new stage has been built which will be placed in the gym before opening night. In addition, new PA and lighting systems will be installed sometime this month.

"Eliza and the Lumberjack" was written by Mrs. Helen Davis of South Bend, Wash., and is a story of pioneering days in the great Northwest.

Drawing lead roles are Brenna Kidney, Joy Proffitt, Ed Stasney, Bill Taylor, Ron Randall and Margaret Foccona.

The show, which has been termed a music-drama, will run Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23.

Vets Hall Dance Boasts Bobrow At Palladium Fri.

Norm Bobrow and his 13-piece band will make their first appearance before Seattle U students tomorrow night.

The dance, sponsored by Vets Hall, will be held at the Palladium from 9 to 1.

Bobrow is a comparatively new band to Seattle, but he has already set an attendance record at the University of Washington. He has also enjoyed several previous successful appearances at the Palladium.

Admission to the dance is $2 per couple, and it is a non-cabaret affair. Cocktail dresses and suits are designated attire for the evening.

All music provided by the Bobrow band will be strictly the danceable kind. There will be a 15-minute jazz concert during the intermission.

Flip Smith is general chairman and invited guests are Fathers John Corrigan and Robert Rebhahn.

IS THIS UTOPIAN?

One of the greatest duties and rights connected with the fact that we are or soon will be adult citizens of the United States is the privilege of voting. Not only is there a privilege, there is also a responsibility to vote in national elections. The same thing goes for SU elections.

Unfortunately, there exists a school of thought which says—"Don't take a stand on anything, be open-minded!" Those of us that have been consciously or unconsciously indoctrinated with this idea seldom bother to train ourselves to make any sort of decisions. We are victims of what is known as "I-don't-personally-care-itis." If we ever do voice an opinion, it is usually founded on that thinker's enigma: emotion. Hence, when the time comes for us to take a stand and to give intelligent arguments why we believe as we do, we find ourselves unprepared.

University life offers the opportunity and requires that we know how to think. Many of us may have forgotten, but universities are supposed to be collections of intelligent people. School elections should be small versions of national politics. If they are, they can be means to well-informed, clear-thinking voters.

We have a four-year period in college in which to judge and decide on candidates. We learn that when we select officers, our choice should be based on their ability to work with people, both the administration and the regular students; to control their words and emotions and not go off the deep end at the least provocation; to introduce new ideas logically and without seeming to force them on those who elected them.

Perhaps the greatest gain from participation in school politics is the ability to separate the so-called "grain from the chaff." With practice, we are able to recognize if a platform is built on "Well, this is what they want to hear so this is what I'll say." Too, we can label as such, rumor and back-biting which is often hiding the term, "impersonal interest in the facts." In all, we learn how to read and hear campaign speeches intelligently.

These are some of the main points to watch in choosing our leaders. We must remember at all times that they will be our representatives. When we elect them we automatically say, "I am naming this man to say what I cannot be present to say." This is a big order—and it takes a good man to fill it."

OPEN LETTER TO STUDENTS

An amendment to the Seattle University Constitution will be on the May 11 ballot. The amendment calls for changing the title of the office of Sergeant-at-Arms to Student Publicity Director.

At present the Sergeant-at-Arms has the duties of parliamentarian at Assembly Board meetings. However, this constitutes only part of the duties. It is also his duty to effectively control school publicity through supervising on-campus publicity which includes posters and signs, blackboard signs, and bulletin board notices in the LA Building.

It is the duty of this office further to handle all ASSU publicity, unless otherwise designated. The chairmanship of the Good Neighbor Drive and half-time entertainment at home ball games are also Sergeant-at-Arms jobs. This year the Open House at the women's halls was also under the jurisdiction of this office.

With the change of title of this office two things should be kept in mind. First, to give the office the prestige it is entitled to, and second to give it a name which actually applies to it.

The proposed amendment has been adopted by the Assembly Board, but it must be voted for by the student body at the final elections, May 11.

In my opinion, from the experience I have had this year in the office of Sergeant-at-Arms, the proposed constitutional amendment should be adopted.

JERRY SCHRAPPS,
ASSU Sergeant-at-Arms.

Extension 55

• AL ACENA

One of the busiest entertainment spots in Seattle has been the Student Union Building these past few weeks, rivaling Gil's Hamburgers and Ivar's. Mrs. Anderson and her staff (Mary and Mary, etc.) have taken care of several banquets and receptions, a convention, a grad reunion and the high school day feed. An elevator to the lounge could certainly help the girls out a bit. Since the Chieftain Building is being used for so many diverse activities, we wonder, with June and June brides just around the corner, if the lounge will be available for wedding parties. Hm?

Last Saturday being Derby day, we hied ourselves over to the Hilltop Cafe to view the horseflesh in the mile-and-a-quarter run (not being able to pick up Channel 11 on our TV). Made a small pittance from a Spec columnist by nonchalantly picking a horse Determine-d to win (punny boy). And while we're on the subject of horses, Bennett Cerf once told of a nag in Pennsylvania who wasn't content with merely tapping addition and subtraction problems but went on to master algebra and trig. His trainer went a bit further, however, by trying to teach him analytic geometry which gave the horse a nervous breakdown. A simple case of putting Descartes before de horse.

Heckling and guffaws are as completely out of place at military review as at a funeral. Even though there may have been irregular moments during the review, could the hecklers on the sidelines do a comparable job? Some cadets complained that bystanders were yelling commands to confuse them while marching. What people do not realize is that there were visitors present who could easily carry away with them an interesting impression of SU students as overgrown high school punks.

Person viewing campaign posters around LA Building's main corridor: "I didn't realize that SU had so many qualified people before."

What's going to happen after the McCarthy-Army hearings become a thing of the past? After some incidentals (such as the removal of TV cameras and the disappearance of the Army "high brass" from behind the witness chair), the Senate Investigations Subcommittee will resume the work from which it had been sidetracked since March.

Politically speaking, the Republicans stand to lose no matter which side of the dispute is vindicated. The Demos can just sit back, relax and enjoy the whole show. Meanwhile the Commies are having a Roman holiday. Why not? Bringing the Communist menace to light has taken second place to the pseudo-judicial act now going on.

Candidates Have Their Say

• MARY MOE

With the closing of the primary elections the candidates for each office have been narrowed to two. It is important to remember that as an officer certain prerequisites are vital to the position. Votes should be cast with ability in mind as well as friendship. Congratulations to the following finalists! Here are their main ideas concerning their respective offices.

ASSU CANDIDATES

President

DARRELL BRITTAIN: Publicity, cooperation and spirit are the three points that sell Seattle U. As candidate for prexy I feel that better informed students, higher caliber publicity, better relations between the student body officers and students along with bigger and better ideas will make for a bigger and better university.

FRANK McBARRON: I'd like to give more financial and social support to Music and Drama. Also there will arise a necessity of unity between the new dorm, Marycrest, and the university proper. Concluding, I feel that the students are obliged to progress in accordance with the progress of SU, by promoting interest in extra-curricular activities.

Vice President

JOHN DUYUNGAN: If elected Vice President, I will make the wishes of all the students paramount in regard to the legislature and the Assembly Board. It must be the voice of the student.

JIM RAY: The Assembly Board should publish a small pamphlet concerning the best possible channels to go through in order to stage any social functions. It should also contain any other valuable information about the above mentioned activities. After two years at SU I am certain of one thing; a well-informed student body is an active student body.

Secretary

LOUISE PICARDO: The Assembly Board and Activities Board should know well in advance, that is, at least a week, the date of the meetings, and the Spec should have a copy of the proceedings. In addition I hope to keep up the record set by past ASSU Secretaries and will welcome any ideas toward bettering this position.

VIRGINIA SCHUCK: Student Body Secretary is an honor which you, the voters, bestow on the most worthy candidate. Were I elected to the office, I would try to fulfill the duties required of me with honesty, loyalty and efficiency.

Treasurer

MIKE LANE: An interested, well-informed and capable Treasurer must work closely with the treasurers of organizations and business managers of school functions. In order to fill these qualities I have planned a simplified system for withdrawing funds from student body organizations' accounts.

NICK SKALABRIN: I think the main duty of Treasurer of ASSU is to ensure that every project undertaken will be a financial success. This can be accomplished by acquainting the student with the financial aspects of the projects concerned.

Sergeant-at-Arms

JIM GRIFFITH: If elected I shall encourage the quality and quantity of the publicity for student activities. I will utilize my two years of experience as a Judicial Board member in keeping order at Student Body, Assembly Board and Activities Board meetings.

JACK RENDALL: I feel that the main duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms is to bring about more spirit among the students of SU. This can be accomplished by having the officers and especially the Sergeant-at-Arms show an interest in school activities. The students will get behind them then and manifest an equal interest.

AWSSU CANDIDATES

President

BARBARA VAN HERHOEF: It is the duty of the President of the Associated Women Students to coordinate their activities with the faculty and the student body.

As President I will put into action some of the ideas learned at the convention recently held on our campus.

Vice President

JOANNE BLEWETT: If I am elected AWSSU Vice President my primary duty will be to serve the girls. Also there should be a unity established between the city and hall girls and this can be done by working together on various social functions. A more unified SU with cooperative school spirit will result.

MARILYN OZAR: I think the main duty as Vice President is to back the President in all the functions and duties that she will undertake in the coming year. I will be glad to take my part of any responsibility. Too, it is important to have unified resident women students who will work in coordination with the other students.

Secretary

JOANNE CARROLL: If elected AWSSU Secretary, I will work toward closer unification of women students. The person chosen for this office is acquainted with the various activities and is in a position to inform others. I feel that this can be a means to closer cooperation.

SHARON SWIFT: The program of the AWSSU should be outlined and made known in order to inform the freshmen and all other students of its activities. A more personal relationship should be brought about between the officers and women students.

Treasurer

MAUREEN MANCA: I shall try to cooperate and give assistance to those who have charge of the various women's activities whenever the occasion arises. Too, I shall do my best to give an accurate report on the financial situation of the Associated Women Students.

SUZETTE RIVERMAN: We all realize the importance of a well-organized financial program. If I am elected AWSSU Treasurer, I will do my best. Besides watching nickles and dimes, I will try to add sense. I will use all my experience to put our money to good use.

The candidates for office are striving to do their best for SU. Let's back them all the way.

NOTES off the cuff

• JIM PLASTINO

in a crowd of 1,000?

"Having a big band also spreads the name of SU," Smith continued. "Besides that, it gets away from the high school connotation of mixers. As far as getting enough people to attend it, we won't have any trouble. We can invite SU students, alumni and their friends.

That's it in a nutshell. Everything hinges on this dance. We are supremely positive that you'll like Bobrow. If you don't, you probably wouldn't care to hear a big name band anyway.

"Thirty"

Slightly Off

• NORRIS CARVER

I rise to a point of order. Things are really getting tough—in Washington, too.

The other day a bum came up to me and said, "Can you spare me 50 cents for a cup of coffee?" I said, "Does a cup of coffee cost 50 cents?" He replied, "No, but won't you join me?"

Since everyone is talking about a big name band I'd like to suggest Basil Metabolism and his Starved Five. It's a sort of, "If you want to hear it badly, that's the way we'll play it" orchestra. I once heard them render, "My girl looks like a total stranger since her face got caught in the record changer." I say "rendered" because they really tore it apart. Then they played from Bach to Beethoven and Bach again. It was played in three unsteady movements as the orchestra wandered from bar to bar. Most of his boys have studied music. They have more degrees than a thermometer.

It's getting so everyone knows the three ages. First there was the ice age; then the stone age. Now we are in the shortage. Washington is telling us to tighten our belts again. I've already eaten mine. Prices are going up all the time. It's getting so that the good old days were last week . . . coffee at a dollar a pound, lamb chops at 50 cents a look. Even the price of milk has gone up. I don't mind keeping the cows contented, but why let them get hilarious? When people say, "It seems like yesterday," it probably was.

They are even drafting more young men these days. But after all, there are only two things you have to worry about: whether you get drafted or not. If you don't, there is nothing to worry about . . . if you do, there are only a couple of things to worry about. If you don't get sent overseas, there is nothing to worry about. If you do, there are only a couple of things to worry about. If you don't get shot there is nothing to worry about. If you do, there are only two things to worry about. If you go up you have nothing to worry about. If you go down you will be too busy shaking hands with all your friends to worry about anything.

Chieftains Win Sixth Straight

Spectator SPORTS

By JOHN MINGUS, Sports Editor

Chieftains Look Sloppy . . . Fisher, OSC

In a recent issue of the Oregon State Barometer, Jim Fisher in his column, "Fishing for Facts," made a remark for which we around Seattle U have very little appreciation.

Fisher was commenting about the dirty uniforms which the Idaho Vandal baseball players wore when they played the Beavers at Corvallis. He stated that "many of the Idaho players' uniforms were dirtier and sloppier than would be expected of a football team playing in the midst of a rainstorm."

In summing up his criticism of the condition of the Vandals' uniforms, Mr. Fisher drew a conclusion which is hitting a new low in collegiate journalism.

The OSC writer said, "Evidently Idaho is the Seattle U of the diamond," making reference to the appearance of the Chieftains' uniforms in the regional tournament playoff at Corvallis.

We are not ashamed of the appearance of our team at Corvallis and feel that any comparison between our basketball team and a dirty-uniformed Idaho Vandal baseball team is an insult to our team, the student body and the university.

Track-Happy Students Show Talent!

It seems that Seattle U has a few pretty potent trackmen in its midst. Larry Sanford, Chieftain basketball player, is one of the most prominent of these thinclad enthusiasts. Larry displayed fine form in the broadjump when he jumped 21 feet 10½ inches to place first in a meet with the Washington Frosh last week. Besides winning the broadjump, Larry ran well and placed high in the high hurdle event in the same meet.

Other students displaying talent in track and field are Russ Tyler, Don Kohler, Tom Koehler and Rod Van Derhoef.

Don Kohler, a sophomore at Seattle U, has turned in a time in the 440 of 52.6, which is very good for one who does not run regularly every day.

Tom Koehler shows great promise as a half-miler, having set a meet record when the Seattle Track and Field Club met the Husky Frosh.

Rod Van Derhoef has shown great possibilities in the mile relay, which he will run in the Vancouver Relays this week end.

Highlight of the season for the track-happy Seattle U students was when they defeated the Oregon varsity squad in the Medley Relay at the Willamette Relays in Salem, Ore.

This and That

Coach Al Brightman is lucky to have an assistant coach like Joe Faccione. . . . Joe has done a swell job with the team, during Coach Al's convalescence with the mumps. . . . Everybody is being investigated about one thing or another. Athletes are now being investigated by the Army. These investigations caused the cancellation of recent Fort Lewis baseball games. When the team was last heard from, they were on the firing range in Yakima.

Face PLC, Navy, Huskies; Look for Third NCAA Berth

By AL WILLIAMS

Romping to six more wins, two each over Portland, Olympic JC and SPC, Chieftain diamondmen now hold 18 triumphs in 22 starts as they shoot for their third straight NCAA berth.

SU plays twin-bills with PLC Saturday in Tacoma and at Bremerton Navy Yard Monday, returning to meet Washington Friday, May 14, in a Graves Field double-header.

Ernie Pastornicky racked up his fifth win and Bob Ward his third as Joe Faccione's Chiefs bombed the Olympic Rangers, 13-0 and 24-2, in a Tuesday mismatch at Bremerton.

Each game was called after five innings for obvious reasons. The contests replaced scheduled Ft. Lewis games, after the Warrior baseball team was suddenly called to rifle range duty (wonder why?).

SU plastered 27 hits in 10 innings, which, added to numerous walks and errors, produced the football-like scores. In the second inning of the second game 12 runs scored as 17 Chiefs batted. Cal Bauer and Chuck Guinasso each plastered a double and single in the frame.

Bill Collier whacked six hits for the day, Bauer and Frank McBaron adding five apiece. SU had six doubles, four triples and 12 stolen bases.

The 24 runs broke the old SU record of 23. Jim Harney, who had tripled, scored the record-breaker on Denny Murphy's fly.

Down south last week end, the Chieftains topped Portland U, 7-4 and 7-1, after losing to Oregon, 5-3.

George Karpach and John Kelly were the winners, Kelly firing a two-hitter and striking out eight. Bauer led the hitters with six for eight.

A bases-loaded homer by Oregon's Bob Wagner cost Pastornicky his first loss this season.

BASKETBALL TURNOUT

Spring basketball turnouts will commence next Monday from 3:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. in the afternoon in the gymnasium, and will be held Monday through Friday for all returning lettermen, this year's freshman team and any aspiring candidates.

Netters Drop Second Match; Meet Oregon Ducks Saturday

Portland University's Pilots, the only team to down SU in tennis this season, continued their mastery of the Chieftains last Saturday, as they took their second straight from the Seattle netters, by a 5-2 score.

Portland took the first four singles matches before Chihara eased by Mims, 6-2, 7-5, to salvage Seattle's only victory in the singles. Seattle and Portland split in doubles competition. Neer and Flynn of Portland combined to beat Chihara and Eng, 6-3 and 6-1, but Kovacevich and Alcid won the final, downing Doyle and Walsh of Portland, 6-2, 3-6 and 6-4.

Miss Janet Hopps again showed that she knows her way around a tennis court, as she pressed Portland's Walsh all the way before dropping a marathon match by scores of 2-6, 6-3 and 11-9.

The Chiefs take their 5-2 record to the firing line next Saturday when they play host to the University of Oregon at Lower Woodland at 11 a.m. SU will see further action the following Monday when they play CPS in Seattle.

Sanford Vies

Led by record-breaking Larry Sanford of Seattle U, the Seattle Track and Field Club's strong AAU team treks northward to shoot for the Vancouver Relays championship this Saturday. The gigantic meet which has attracted entries from even the ranks of Olympic Games champions will be held at UBC Stadium from noon until 5 p.m. The British Empire Games officials will conduct the classic.

Sanford broad-jumped 21 feet, 10½ inches in the club's meet at U. of W. last week.

Golfers Eye NCAA; Drop Portland 12½-5½

Tuesday at Jackson golf course, the University of British Columbia golf team became the 14th straight victim of the Seattle U golfers, 12½ to 2½.

Dick Masterson led the Chieftains with his 3 under par 68. Gordy Mackensie was close behind with a 71.

Last Saturday, at West Seattle, the Chieftain golfers took the measure of the Portland Pilots for the second time this year, 12-3. Lingenbrink, playing like a top-flight professional, took medalist honors with his seven under par 65. In this record round Chuck scored seven birdies and an eagle. The match was played over the West Seattle course.

This coming Saturday the Oregon Ducks will invade Seattle to seek to avenge their earlier defeat at the hands of the Chiefs. The match will be played either at West Seattle or Rainier.

Monday CPS will be the foe of the high-riding Chiefs. In the first match of the season, the Seattle U squad downed the Tacomans quite handily.

And then next Thursday, Inglewood Golf and Country Club will host the match between the U of W and Seattle U. The match will start at 1:30 p.m. and all students are urged to go out and see some championship golf.

With only four matches left on the schedule the SU linksmen already are assured of their most successful season on record. Coach Fenton and Co. are the toast of Northwest collegiate golf and if frosh are ruled eligible, SU will undoubtedly be invited to compete in the NCAA tournament in Houston, Texas.

Specs of News

Student tickets for the Fifth Annual Architectural Tour and Tea (Seattle Art Museum), May 13 from 10 to 5 p.m., are available from Miss Eunice Martin in the home ec office. Prices are 50 cents a ticket. Broadmoor and Washington Park homes will be toured.

Loyalty Cup nominations must be handed in to ASSU Secretary Dorothy Reuter by 11 o'clock this morning to assure inclusion in the Tuesday ballot. Each campus club names a senior man and woman worthy of the honor.

SU Sailing Club starts its spring program next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Those interested in participating can sign the poster on the main bulletin board.

Sodality meets next Tuesday noon in Room 123. Nomination and election of new officers for the coming year will be held. All sodalists are asked to be present.

M/Sgt. Edmund A. Lenihan, ROTC instructor, received the Silver Star for gallantry during his tour of duty in Korea. Maj. Gen. Emerson Cummings, chief of Ordnance, made the award prior to the military review last Friday.

Appointments and promotions were recently made in the ROTC battalion here. A complete list will appear in the next Spec.

In last week's list of Spur pledges the name of Margie Van Parys was inadvertently omitted.

Mu Sigma Offers Membership Blanks

All applications for membership in Mu Sigma, campus music honorary, must be handed in by Monday, May 10. The blanks may be obtained at the bookstore and must be filled out and returned to either the bookstore or the music office in the Little Theater not later than Monday.

Applicants must attend the work meeting at noon, Saturday, May 8, in the second floor warehouse over Room 601 in Warren West Hall.

Old clothes are recommended to be worn since the meeting's purpose is the building and painting of sets for the coming musical production, "Eliza and the Lumberjack."

Young Demos Schedule Camp Weekend Plans

SU Young Demos will travel to Camp Waskowitz near North Bend May 8 and 9 for a state political workshop.

The aim of the workshop, which is sponsored by the Young Democratic Clubs of King County, SU, U of W, and affiliated clubs, is to help young people study the issues toward building a party platform.

Workshop topics will cover ten issues in our foreign and domestic program. Keynote speaker is Dave Barney, Reed College student editor, just returned from a tour of Russia. He will discuss, "Inside the USSR."

SU students headed for the meet include Wayne Angevine, Ann O'Donnell, Ann Kopp, Betty Trenko, Margie Van Parys and Don Wright.

Professor Charles S. La Cugna, political science department, will conduct some sessions.
